The Estremadura Region—The Nazaré area as an investment

Did You Know?

November weather on the Silver Coast is unpredictable. You can get rainy days, cold days (certainly nights can be chilly) or warm sunny days that makes you wonder if its not summer (the latter is more probable). Like a box of chocolate, you never really know what you'll get. Sometimes the only hint that it is November, is that night does come early. Portugal, is now in Standard Daylight Time throughout the country.

Average temperatures in November are between a max. 18, and a min. 11 degrees Celsius.

Is the global financial crisis giving you investment jitters? Well, you're not alone. Keep in mind that despite the crisis, that NOW is the time to invest. Real estate remains one of the safest havens for your investment. Just ask George Soros and Warren Buffet. It seems that they are both investing heavily in real estate sector these days. Are they crazy, or do they know something we don't? Or do we? Remember how you always promised yourself that you would invest in real estate once demand slowed. Well what are you waiting for? The Estremadura region of Portugal has lots of quality at reasonable prices. There are some great bargains out there right now, so don't miss this unique chance or you'll regret it later. The Nazaré area, with its planned re-vitalization and development boom, is the place to be. Check out the Quinta Verde development just south of Nazaré.

Location, Location, Location

...a focus on Nazaré...

Nazaré boasts one of the most colourful and traditional farmers markets in the region, with fresh goods and produce from the area's agricultural growers, fishermen and merchants. A true "Horn of Plenty", and a delight for the chef who appreciates cooking with fresh food. You won't believe how good some of this stuff tastes. Every morning, from 7am until about 1 pm, you can take in the hustle and bustle of the farmer's market, where the sights, sounds and scents will absolutely overwhelm your senses, in a good way. From butchers to fish-mongers, you can get it all in one convenient place...and don't be afraid to bargain.
